SCIENCE, CONSCIOUSNESS AND SPIRIT
Matthew Fox and Rupert Sheldrake in dialogue

Colet House, 151 Talgarth Road, London W14
Monday 6th April, 7-9 pm

The study of consciousness is now one of the most exciting areas of science, and one where the limits of materialistic thinking have become most apparent. It also opens the door to explore the deeper and more experiential dimensions of faith such as mysticism and compassion. In this dialogue Rupert and Matthew will explore the frontiers of modern research and discuss how thinking about the nature of the mind can illuminate spiritual experience, and how spiritual experience can in turn illuminate our understanding of our selves and of other forms of consciousness within the universe. For biographies see overleaf.
